Once upon a time a little boy came to the health department for an appointment.

In the corner of the waiting room were books.

Books with bright covers.

Books with fun pictures.

Books just for him!

He chose one with care and climbed up into a chair. Carefully he turned the pages, one by one.

When it was the little boy's turn, he took the book with him. He wasn't done reading it.

The appointment was fast, too fast. His dad told him it was time to leave but he wasn't done reading his book. The lady told him it was okay, he could take the book, and it would be his very own! Then he could read it as many times as he wanted to!

Your total donation to Book Ladder will provide books for children to take home. Literacy rates for children in Michigan are falling, and this is your chance to make a difference, a chance for more little boys and girls to take home books of their own.

Donations may be sent to Chippewa County Health Department, 508 Ashmun St, Suite 120, Sault Ste. Marie, MI 49783, ATTN: Book Ladder
